10 NATIONS OPEN PARLEY TO PUT EUROPE ON FEET

Seek Quick Action on Dawes Plan.

BY JOHN STEELE.

(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.)

LONDON, July 16.—The conference of ten nations on the Dawes plan for the rehabilitation of Germany and all of Europe opened today at the foreign office in an atmosphere of utmost anxiety and optimism.

Every one is hopeful of unanimous agreement, and every one is pleased that, for the first time since the peace treaty conference, the nations of Europe are united in a common purpose.

IOWA LAWYER DIES AS CABBY LOSES NERVE

Girl and Mother Hit by Stolen Car.

Hundreds of homeward bound loop workers and shoppers late yesterday witnessed the death of Clara H. Smith, 55, of Mason City, Ia., a prominent railroad lawyer, who was killed in front of the University club at 78 West Monroe street by a taxicab driven by Peter Raber, 1648 Cleveland avenue.

Smith was the victim of an unusual accident. Raber was backing his cab up to the curb, and Smith, who started to cross the street, stepped behind it. He was struck and knocked to the pavement.

Witnesses shouted to the driver, but, becoming confused, he backed the cab further and a rear wheel passed over Smith's head. He was extricated immediately and rushed to St. Luke's hospital, where it was said he died almost instantly.

Driver Is Held.

Raber was held by the traffic division pending a coroner's inquest, which will be held today at the Central undertaking rooms, 422 South Clark street.

Smith, according to cards found in his pockets, was a member of the Mason City law firm of Blythe, Markley, Rule & Smith. The death raised the total auto fatalities for the year to 345.

Stolen Car Hits Two.

Driven at high speed, an automobile, reported to the police as stolen, struck Mrs. Martha Werner, 5533 South Racine avenue, and her daughter, Geraldine, 4, as they waited for a street car at Racine avenue and 57th street.

Without slackening speed the occupants of the car drove away and escaped. Witnesses reported a license number as that of the car to the Englewood police, who found it had been issued to Harry Hines, 4800 Champlain avenue. Hines previously had reported it stolen. Mrs. Werner and her daughter were taken to the Auburn Park hospital. The girl is so seriously hurt she may die.

Auto Strikes Boy.

An automobile driven by Ralph O'Hara, 246 Washington boulevard, Oak Park, a business agent for the Motion Picture Operators' union, yesterday struck and perhaps fatally injured William Lukaski, 9, 3518 North Oakley avenue. After the accident, which occurred at Ada street and Washington boulevard, O'Hara drove the injured boy to the county hospital, and then reported to the police. He was not held.

Antone Gilane, 11811 Indiana avenue, a truck driver, was killed at Indiana Harbor, Ind., yesterday when his truck was struck by a Pennsylvania eastbound flyer.

Hyman Goldfine, 9, 1133 North Campbell avenue, was severely injured yesterday when he was struck by a motor truck driven by Gario Romano, 1228 West Avenue. The boy was taken to the hospital by Romano.

Mrs. Belle E. Delches, 919 East 44th place, thought she ought not to be fined for speeding in Evanston because she was a student at Northwestern university summer school.

Magistrate Max Witkower levied $40 and costs.

OFFERS NEW PLAN

Traffic signals built on the elevated loop structure at every street intersection in conformance with the Michigan avenue system was suggested by Commissioner Miller yesterday.

Such a system might be installed for not more than $40,000 if permission for one of the structures can be obtained from the Union Loop company.

Commissioner Miller estimates.

Twenty-six standard railway signals equipped with 12 inch bullseye lights are contemplated. The plan, which will be submitted to Chief of Police Collins, who already has announced he will seek an appropriation for the installation of loop signals.

Study Possible Objections.

Traffic experts, under the direction of Commissioner Miller, are studying objections to the plan, which includes the operation of surface lines cars under the proposed system as well as the volume of loop parking.

A "skip-stop" plan, providing that the street cars make stops only at every second or third intersection through the loop and a plan to prohibit parking in the area, have been suggested.

J. A. Patten, Wheat King, Breaks Toe Exercising

James A. Patten, multimillionaire wheat king, broke a toe yesterday while going through callisthenic exercises in his home at 1426 Ridge avenue, Evanston. He was taken to the Evanston hospital.

FAG, BOY COPS AND 'MA' WAKE UP EVANSTON

A battery of Evanston's recently organized junior police—all of them boys in their lower teens—jumped into action last night and well night started a riot.

The sight of 13 year old Joe Synkiewicz, 810 Florence street, smoking a pernicious cigarette at the corner of Wesley avenue and Greenleaf street was the cause of battle. The junior coppers deemed this an affront to the law and order of Evanston, and they proceeded to take Joe in custody.

But Joe's mother objected. So did his sister. With the help of another woman they seized the junior coppers by the ears and told them to leave their Joe alone. Reinforcements arrived for both sides. Then some one called the regular police and, to make the occasion complete, summoned the fire department. But Joe's cigarette had already become extinguished.

Long Missing Major Slain for Robbery

Raleigh, N. C., July 16.—[By The Associated Press.]—The fate of Maj. Samuel H. McLeary, coast artillery officer, for whom authorities of three states have been searching for two weeks, was established tonight when one of his slayers confessed to officials at Canton, near Asheville.

The victim of two pedestrians whom he had invited to ride with him in his automobile, Maj. McLeary's body, stripped of all valuables, was being sought late tonight ten miles from Cheraw, S. C., near the North Carolina line, on information furnished in his confession.

Shot in Cold Blood.

Maj. McLeary was slain by Mortimer H. King of Canton and a man whose identity has not been disclosed, according to King's statement to the authorities, on the afternoon of July 2, the day he disappeared after leaving Raleigh en route from Norfolk, Va., to Fort Moultrie, S. C., to which post he was transferred from Fort Leavenworth, Kas.

King said they forced the officer to leave the automobile shortly after he had cheerfully offered them a "lift," shot him dead as he stepped to the ground, took his money and valuables, and buried his body in a pile of brush at the roadside.

Robbery Was the Motive.

The motive, King admitted, was robbery. Afterward, they drove the machine to Canton and abandoned it nearby after rifling the officer's baggage and stripping the car of its identification marks.

King, an admitted deserter from both the army and marine corps, was trapped when one of the major's shirts was found in his home.

Prohibition Knocked Out
by Saskatchewan Voters

Regina, Sask., July 16.—The defeat of prohibition in Saskatchewan by a decisive majority and its replacement by a system of government control, without the sale of beer in licensed premises, appeared to be certain tonight when opponents of the existing system had rolled up a majority of 17,062, with one-quarter of the province heard from. For plain government control there were 33,097 votes, and control, which included the sale of beer in licensed premises, 26,412.

DOCTOR DROWNS WHILE BATHING IN CHICAGO RIVER

Dr. Frederick J. Freeman, 45 years old, 5743 Prairie avenue, drowned early last evening when he was seized with cramps while swimming in the Chicago river at Franklin street.

Dr. Freeman was on board the United States health department boat, anchored at the Franklin street bridge, whose crew he knew. He borrowed a bathing suit. He had been in but a few minutes when he called for help.

James V. Seever, 2257 West Van Buren street, a member of the boat's crew, went to his assistance, but the doctor sank before Seever could reach him.

The body was removed to the Western Casket company, 326 West Randolph street.

"One of 'em is larger than the fellow you recovered," said the manager. "They've been gone for three weeks now. I can't find hide nor hair of them."

The green boys, it was explained, will be recognized by their green eyes and wagging tails.

It is to be understood that this Tribune's proposal is not a circulation stunt.

Foremost, it is the desire on the part of THE TRIBUNE to carry out one of the broadest experiments in a new field ever conceived, provided you want it done.

Every Reader Should Answer. The response to the query in the coupon is one step in the experiment. It should receive an answer from every reader. Does the answer mean he wants to hear the proceedings of one of the most momentous trials in history? Do they want to hear the evidence, however sordid the testimony may be? A score of elements will enter into every answer, affirmative, or negative, that is sent in, and letters supplementing the coupon will be well come. The most interesting will be printed.

This test will be an experiment by a journal which occupies the position of being the World's Greatest Newspaper. It is entering into an experiment with the invention that some have termed the death knell of the daily paper, perfectly satisfied to leave the verdict in the enterprise to its readers.

But instead of cutting into its circulation, THE TRIBUNE confidently expects that the broadening of the Leopold-Loeb trial will increase it. It is risking its circulation with the conviction that the odds are all in its favor.

It will be an epochal test. Conceivably, it may effect law, public opinion, politics, and journalism.

Do you wish to try it? If so, fill in the coupon and mail it to "Radio," THE TRIBUNE, Tribune square, Chicago, Ill.

WHITE WIFE IS FREED AS KILLER OF NEGRO MATE

Mrs. Lela Foster (white), charged with the murder of her colored husband at 4488 Indiana avenue, where the couple lived, was acquitted of the charge late yesterday by a jury in Judge William Lindsay's court. The jury deliberated but forty minutes.

Foster was shot early the morning of Dec. 4 last. He made a statement to the police just before he died accusing his wife of being the slayer.

Witnesses for the state testified that Mrs. Foster even chewed the end of lead bullets "to make the wounds bigger."

Mrs. Foster said that her husband was shot accidentally during a struggle for possession of a revolver with which Foster had threatened her.

Mrs. Foster was represented by Miss Helen Cline. This is believed to be the first time that an alleged murderer has been represented by a woman attorney.

DAUB SLAYERS BLACKER JUST TO CHEAT NOOSE?

State Is Suspicious of Franks Case Tales.

BY GENEVIEVE FORBES.

Suspicious that the defense, seeking to send Nathan F. Leopold Jr. and Richard Loeb to the insane asylum rather than the gallows, is spreading, or at least encouraging, the spread of propaganda which makes the "teen" age murderers.

Has the defense, the state alienists were asking, turned upside down the old axiom, "Kill with kindness," and determined upon a plan to "save with kindnessness?"

Dr. Krohn Analyzes Move. Dr. William O. Krohn, widely known alienist, who observed the boys the day they made their confession to State's Attorney Robert E. Crowe, and who will testify for the state, yesterday pointed out that "the more of a devil you make a man, the easier it is for the average person to regard him as insane."

"The more heinous and diabolic and numerous are the crimes that are laid at the doors of Leopold and Loeb," Dr. Krohn declared, "the more inconceivable the university students will become to the man in the streets."

When a man does something you can't possibly conceive of doing, it is the easiest thing in the world to dispose of it by saying, "Why, that man must be crazy."

Welcome to Defense. "And in order to prove that both of these men must be crazy" it is possible, the alienist explained, "that the defense would welcome reports of other direful crimes which the boys have committed."

Specifically, the two stories which yesterday were being circulated were that the adolescent explorers had originally selected Loeb's younger brother to be the human guinea pig in their grotesque experiment of "murder for a thrill."

And the even more startling suggestion that the boys had planned to kidnap the senior Mr. Leopold.

Attorney Clarence Darrow, of counsel for the defense, yesterday declared both of the stories were unauthoritative. But at the same time the prosecution planned an attack on such stories, should they be introduced into testimony regarding the normal acts of the boys during their nineteen years of life.

Cries Human Spider. A man may swing far from the normal conduct of the "average man," and still not be insane, according to Dr. Krohn's explanation.

"Take the man who earns his livelihood by scrambling up the steep sides of buildings and being a human spider. The average man prefers to be a baker, a doctor, a clerk or a salesman. He

"KAINUCK" LEADER SEEKS CHICAGO AID FOR DIXIE HIGHWAY

Completion of the Dixie "A" route highway through Kentucky for the benefit of fall and winter tourists depends on northern cooperation with towns along the road, representatives of the road told Chicago interests yesterday at a Hamilton club luncheon.

The meeting, arranged by the Chicago Motor club and Chicago Association of Commerce, was addressed by Edwin Morrow, former governor of Kentucky. He told of the struggle for better roads, waged by people in the poorer districts south of Lexington and outlined the route of the highway which leads from Chicago to Indianapolis, Cincinnati, Lexington and south to Florida through the most picturesque section of the Cumberland.

This venture communities along the route turned out to work on the road, giving their services free to complete the last unimproved link through several Kentucky counties. About $25,000 is still needed to complete the link.

P. O. Clark of Berea College, Ky., and C. O. Connor, supervising engineer of Asheville, Tenn., are organizing the Chicago's cooperation in the road improvement.

may even think the human fly a bit of a nut for climbing up there in that crazy fashion.

"But suppose the spider, up on the top, pulls a gun and shoots down into the street and kills the baker. He is just as responsible for his act, as if the baker had pulled a gun, and shot up at the spider."

Charles Versus that Culvert. And as far as the theories of diseased basal ganglia and abnormal endocrine glands being partially responsible for the boys' perpetration of the murder, Dr. Krohn said that a ride out to the culvert at 118th street and the Pennsylvania tracks—the culvert where a workman discovered the lifeless body of Bobby Franks in the ditch water—will impress a jury of twelve men more than a chart of basal ganglia.

During these few weeks before the scheduled start of the trial, the attorneys and the alienists are concentrating on questions of law and medicine, but attaches of the "Criminal court building are considering the more tangible problems of doors and crowds, seats and telegraph wires.

Plans are almost completed, it became known yesterday, for the installation of a special fillet telegraph instrument to facilitate the work of the dozens of out-of-town correspondents who have asked for space in the courtroom.

COOLIDGE TAKES HIS FIGHT INTO BOB'S BACK YARD

Confers with Leaders and Plans Farm Invasion.

BY DONALD EWING.

Washington, D. C., July 16.—[Special.]—President Coolidge has ordered his campaign directors to take up the challenge of Senator La Follette (Rep., Wis.), and sail into the independent candidate's own northwest for an extensive fight for the rural vote. Wisconsin itself, La Follette's home state, will be the center of a particularly vigorous Coolidge attack.

In connection with the northwest plans, the President expects to file independent electors in Wisconsin and North and South Dakota, where the regular Republican machinery is controlled by La Follette.

In Wisconsin all that is necessary is for his party to have polled 10,000 votes in the last primary election or to file a petition with 1,000 signatures asking that his name be on the ballot. In North Dakota only 500 signatures are needed and but 200 in South Dakota.

Holds Political Parties. The President today received half a dozen political advisers from various parts of the country, and to a man they told him that he was growing stronger and stronger in the agrarian sections, and that in some of them he could lick La Follette to a frazzle.

And they found the President not only willing, but eager, for such a battle. Missouri, California, Ohio, and even Bryan's own Nebraska, will be Republican strongholds when the votes are counted, the President was told, while some more optimistic advisers said he had a fair chance in Wisconsin and approved his plan for a battle there.

While these conferences were going on at the White House, over in the La Follette camp was another conference for the purpose of combatting the very plans being made by the President. At this conference it was announced that Senator Wheeler (Dem., Mont.), prosecutor for the Daugherty committee had proclaimed his support of La Follette and would take the stump through the northwest to combat the Republicans.

Will He Take Second Place? The announcement was taken by some to mean that Wheeler might be named La Follette's running mate, although Senator Wheeler said he would not be a candidate and declared that he would support the Democratic state ticket in Montana. Formal decisions on both matters will come Friday.

Among the first of the President's callers today was Raymond Benjamin, former Republican state chairman of California and regional director of several Pacific coast states in the Harding campaign. Benjamin told the President he would carry California by 400,000 and that all of the Johnson votes would go to him.

Reports that Coolidge would win in Nebraska, where Charles Bryan, the Democratic second place nominee is governor, were brought by Representative McLaughlin (Rep., Neb.). He reported that there was much dissatisfaction there because of Bryan's failure to keep campaign pledges to the farmers, and that a trend to Coolidge was noticeable. Even Senator Norris (Rep., Neb.) would be able to swing the tide away from Coolidge, he said.

Arnold Helmich of St. Louis reported that the Democratic ticket was split in Missouri, that La Follette had made no impression, and that the state consequently would go to Coolidge.

These reports gave the President great encouragement over the rural vote prospects, and he was further pleased when Senator Brandegee (Rep., Conn.) brought him information that he would have no difficulty in the New England states.

Big Business "Safe." During the day Chairman Butler of the Republican national committee telephoned from New York, and during a lengthy conversation said there was nothing to cause worry as to how business interests would vote. He figured that big business would swing unanimously to Coolidge as the only sure way of avoiding throwing the election into the house. Coolidge, early in the field, with a well organized machine, would get preference over Davis, despite the latter's Wall street connections, he said.

Butler is expected to come here during the week for several conferences with the President.

FALL AT DOHENY HOME; POMERENE RUSHES OIL CASES

Los Angeles, Cal., July 16.—Albert E. Fall, former secretary of the Interior, recently indicted at Washington in connection with federal oil lease investigations, arrived here today with Mrs. Fall. The former secretary made no statement. It was understood he and Mrs. Fall would be guests at the home of E. L. Doheny, oil magnate, Doheny, his son, and Harry Sinclair, oil operator, also were indicted by the Washington grand jury.

To Hurry Oil Lease Cases. Washington, D. C., July 16.—[Special.]—Atlee Pomerene, special government attorney in the prosecution of oil fraud cases, announced today the hearings on the Elk Hills and Teapot Dome naval reserve leases would be hurried forward so the indictments against Doheny and Sinclair, and other criminal cases might be taken up.

A Financial Chart of the South Seas

A man came in recently to our Service Station and said, "You help people plan their finances, don't you?" We said, "Yes," and he said, "Help me with mine." So we did, charting as seemed best to suit his needs. When we were done, he drew a breath and said, "Now do you know what I'd like to do? I'd like to chuck that whole thing, blow in every cent I've got, and go on a four months' exploring trip to the South Seas."

Our "Station" manager considered a moment and then asked, "Why don't you?"

"What!" the other exclaimed, "do you, a banker, advise me to spend all my savings on a trip that will probably do no one any good except myself?"

"Not all your savings," the manager replied, "for that would be like sending you out into the desert with food for three days and none for the fourth. But I think we can rechart your financial plan so that you can take your trip six months from now, and still have left a reserve against need."

They recharted, and the man's mail is now loaded with steamship literature.

Many people have an idea that a banker always advises against spending savings for recreation. But this is not true. The banker today knows that man does not live by bread alone, and that there must be periods of change from routine, and of relaxation if the soul is to grow, and if science and art are to get new contributions. But the banker safeguards the spending with the insistence that there must be a reserve fund.

If you have some desire whose gratification would cost more money than you think you can afford, come in and talk the situation over at our Service Station. Perhaps we can help you accomplish it. At any rate, we will listen with understanding.

PARIS, July 16.—Owen D. Young of New York, who has accepted in writing a suggestion that he become "agent general for reparations payments," which is a sort of fiscal agent for the execution of the Dawes report, is also willing to act as arbiter for the reparations commission with a vote on questions concerning Germany's debt.

This latter function was created on July 8 in the note of Prime Minister MacDonald and Premier Herriot to the Dawes commission after conversations between London, Washington, and Paris. Mr. Young, when acting as arbiter of reparations questions, would eliminate the French majority on the reparations commission.

Two steps are necessary, however, before this can be officially announced. The steps are: One, adoption by the London conference of the MacDonald-Herriot protocol creating the arbiter of the reparations commission; two, some step by President Coolidge approving Mr. Young's appointment.

Hears U. S. Approves Plan.
The commission has been assured that Washington approves the MacDonald-Herriot plan. Legalization of Mr. Young's appointment can be accomplished either by senate action authorizing official American representation on the reparations commission or by a protocol declaring Mr. Young is the representative of all American, British, and Swiss interests loaning Germany money under the Dawes plan.

In the latter case senate action would not be necessary, and it is concluded that Mr. Young would represent the American government with a dominating influence on the reparations commission, without having to have his position legalized by congress.

Mr. Young's acceptance of the position is definite, however, and the American state department has approved it in order to facilitate Mr. MacDonald's job in getting the allied conference to put the Dawes plan into effect. The action became necessary because of the demand of the J. P. Morgan & Co. for such representation in the reparations commission in exchange for floating a loan of approximately $200,000,000, chiefly in America.

U. S. Member Next, Rumor.
There is a persistent and well-authenticated rumor here that America's next move will be to arrange for actual representation in the reparations commission. "To carry this out, President Coolidge would have to ask action by congress."

As it is now constituted the reparations commission consists of France, England, Belgium, and Italy, with Japan and America observing. France obtains two votes under the treaty as the president of the commission is a Frenchman and holds an extra vote. Even if Italy and England vote together—as has often happened in the past few years—France and Belgium can block action.

Mr. MacDonald's principal contention in all the negotiations since the Dawes report was finished has been that the America and English lenders who will make reparations payments possible, must have some sort of guaranty against the blanket power of France to control the decisions of the reparations commission on questions of sanctions, such as the occupation of German territory and the seizure of German goods.

WILL ACT THREE MONTHS.

BY HENRY WALKER.

(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.)

LONDON, July 16.—Owen D. Young of New York, who helped frame the Dawes recommendations, will accept any invitation for him to act as agent general for the reparations commission in connection with the new German loan bank provided for under the Dawes report, but only for a period of three months while the experts' plan is being put into execution and the machinery is being organized. This time was learned today from an authoritative source.

Mr. Young is reluctant to absent himself from New York because of personal business engagements, but he is willing to devote a few months to supervise the carrying out of the exper's plan because of his deep interest in its application for the general economic, industrial and financial good of Europe and the world.

Position Not Yet Created.

Nobody can actually be invited to take the position in question until the Dawes report has been adopted by the allies and Germany and the position becomes existent, but Mr. Young has already been sounded out and has indicated his readiness to serve.

Mr. Young intends to remain in London during the allied conference and is willing to appear before the various committees to outline his views and ideas concerning questions attached to the experts' plan.

This Thirteenth annual meeting of the State Hughes personally urged Mr. Young to come to London during the conference and to do everything helpful possible and he also intimated the desirability of Mr. Young accepting temporarily whatever post the allies might offer him.

The American financial pressure brought to bear on France to accept what heartily the Dawes plan immediately was revealed today when the French minister of finance, M. Clemenceau, French minister of finance, at the Hyde Park hotel.

WARSHIP HUNTS FOR LOST BRITISH WORLD AVIATOR

American Flyers Reach
London from Paris.

TOKYO, July 17.—(By The Associated Press.)—Japanese destroyers have not yet found any trace of A. Stuart MacLaren, the British aviator, and his companions, who left Yotorofu island early yesterday morning for Paramushiro island, Kuriles, a flight of 450 miles.

Maj. MacLaren and his two companions hopped off from Toshimoye lake, Yotorofu island, early yesterday, with apparently favorable weather ahead. Their northward path lay over a series of comparatively uninhabited islands.

Yanks in London.

LONDON, July 16.—(By Associated Press.)—Six American aviators, 244 flying hours out of Seattle, and with two-thirds of the world's circumference behind them, glided into the Croydon airfield, just outside of London, this afternoon, ready for their first real rest on the round globe flight and for a week of preparation for their final dash across the Atlantic via Iceland and Greenland.

They left the Le Bourget airfield, outside of Paris, at 11:05 o'clock this morning, and landed at the Croydon airfield just three hours and four minutes later. They were greeted by a crowd of enthusiasts who nearly mobbed them as they climbed stiffly from their cockpits.

Greeted by Mrs. MacLaren.

Tomorrow the planes, which for months have undergone the severest possible strain without as yet showing any signs of serious wear and tear, will go to Brough for the installation of new engines and for a general tightening up process before they hop off some time next week for Kikwall, in the Orkney Islands.

As the planes approached Croydon, Mrs. Stuart MacLaren, wife of the British round the world flyer, excited as a schoolgirl, watched the machines anxiously and whispered to a companion: "It's wonderful but I wish it were my husband coming home." She was one of the first to congratulate Lieut. Lowell H. Smith, the American commander who leaped out of the fuselage of his plane and gave her a word of good cheer about her husband.

SHERIDAN NOW RIDES FOREVER ON NORTH SIDE

Unveil Statue as Guns
Crash, 10,000 Cheer.

Mary Sheridan pulled aside the flag which veiled the bronze statue of her father, Gen. Philip Sheridan, yesterday afternoon while 10,000 loyal Americans, standing in the blazing sun, cheered. And if that bronze rider, who henceforth will point the way down the thoroughfare that bears his name, was looking down, he would have seen floating across the blue waters of Belmont harbor and out to the lake cloud after cloud of powder smoke from a crashing military salute.

The most interested witnesses of the unveiling of the statue of the civil war hero, who lived in Chicago for fifteen years, were his widow and his daughter, who came from their home at Northquilt, Mass., for the ceremonies. Miss Sheridan had not been here since she was a child.

Sculptor Is Present.

Another interested spectator was Gunter Borglum, the sculptor, who modeled not only this statue of Sheridan but a similar one recently unveiled in Washington. He gave a short address in which he explained that he visualized in this statue the way the little general must have looked on that tragic ride down the Shenandoah valley, when he reined in suddenly as he passed his fleeing men and shouted: "Back to the front, my boys! Back to your own tents. Take again what you have lost." So Sheridan stopped the rout and turned to victory a defeat which he discovered had come to his troops while he was in Washington attending a conference.

Widow Attracts Attention.

Younger than her illustrious husband, was an arresting figure on the speaker's platform. She is erect and youthful for her 70 years. The general, had he lived, would be 80 years old.

There is a tradition that Gen. Sheridan, by his ability to size up a situation and command men, halted the flames in the great fire of 1871 from spreading to the south side of Chicago. He is said to have ordered certain buildings on South Wabash avenue, near Congress street, blown up by powder, thus checking the southerly course of the fire. The Sheridans then lived on Michigan avenue, south of 29th street.

Miss of 19, "in Trouble,"

Ends Her Life by Gas

Miss Emma Kodyck, 19 years old, ended her life yesterday by locking herself in a room at 1415 South Karlov avenue and turning on the gas. "I could not go through the trouble I was in, and the best thing I could do was to end it all," read a note which her brother-in-law, Joseph Lukes, found after he crawled through a window and discovered the girl's body.

WHAT VILLAINY'S AFOOT HERE? AHA! TH' LANDSHARKS!

Elia Lockwood Streeter yesterday disclosed the purposes of the Streeterville Guarantee company, incorporated Tuesday in Arizona for a billion dollars.

Dirge deeds, it seems, have been perpetrated on "Ma," the widow of Cap'n George Wellington Streeter. But "Ma" as always is game. She would not "squawk" when seen in person on the houseboat yesterday, although red cold blue eye flashed now and then. And so it remained for "the papers" to be filled down in Arizona before the facts became public property.

The papers? Articles of incorporation of the Streeterville Guarantee company, a billion dollar concern, with 10,000,000 to provide funds for defense. That is to say, "Ma" was dated in Chicago July 2, signed by "Ma" Streeter and her attorney, Parke Longworth.

Geo and Gosh!

Interesting papers they are. The life and deeds of the irascible "Cap'n" his long fight to the end of his "rights"; how he was "framed" and "jailed" in the efforts of the "financial gangsters" to "force him and 'Ma' to retire from their $250,000,000 estate—"Streeterville, the District of Lake Michigan." And, horrible! the poor little murdered baby that was planted on "Ma's" ship. And the still and the moonshine that also were planted there. And her watchdogs that were stolen and killed. How the yacht itself was rammed and efforts were made to sink it in the slip!

Well, sir, the papers tell it all. How the "financial gangsters" ever killed one of their own hirelings that Cap'n Streeter might be charged with his murder. Murder? Plenty of it. An abstractor in Streeter's employ also was murdered by the desperadoes. The papers say so.

After the moonshine and the still were shipped onto "Ma's" boat, the papers say, the prohibition agents were tipped off and the old lady's ship of state was raided.

Poor, Innocent Infant!

Then came the episode of the dead baby. It's body was dropped down a porthole and was foug saturated with poison.

The articles state that "every manner of treachery was perpetrated on this widow within the concept of black-hearted wretches who have not the courage nor the brains to earn such valuable property (as the 'District') by honest methods.

It is stipulated near the end of the document that stock is to be sold to the value of $100,000 to provide funds for defense. That is to say, "Ma" Streeter is authorized to sell that much to get funds to protect her claims.

ELECTRICIANS' DISPUTE WITH W. U. T. CO. ENDS

Federal Court Forbids Union Interference.

Federal Judge James H. Wilkerson yesterday ended the controversy between officials of the Electrical Workers' union, No. 124, and the Western Union Telegraph company, which had been in progress for several years.

He granted a temporary injunction restraining the union from interfering by strike threat or intimidation with the interstate commerce of the telegraph company.

Employers and union officials in all parts of the country were interested in the outcome of the injunction suit. They regarded it in the light of a test case which involved certain governmental angles.

In Old Dispute.

The dispute between electricians' local 124 and the Western Union Telegraph company dates back several years. The union, through the efforts of Michael J. Boyle, business agent, and his staff of lieutenants, have insisted on organization of the telegraph company's maintenance employees.

The union heads contended that the maintenance employees were engaged in electrical work and rightfully should obtain membership in local 124. If the company granted this concession, it was said, it would amount to enforcement of closed shop conditions.

The telegraph company balked. Its officials in Chicago said the corporation's national policy along industrial lines was an open shop one. They pointed out they were unable to change this condition, but said if it were agreeable to the union, the telegraph company was willing to submit all maintenance work to electrical contractors who employ only union electricians.

This action, the company officials asserted, would permit the work to be done by union electricians and yet not interfere with the national policy of the telegraph company. This overture did not satisfy Boyle.

Company to Write Injunction.

A quotation from the written decision handed down by Judge Wilkerson declares:

"Broadly speaking any American citizen has the right to quit work whenever he chooses, unless in quitting work he is furthering a criminal conspiracy. The crime in this case is in going to work with an understanding which is part of a conspiracy, and later quitting work in furtherance of that conspiracy."

Judge Wilkerson instructed the attorneys for the Western Union Telegraph company to draw up a decree of injunction in accordance with the views expressed in his opinion. In deciding that the strike of the electrical workers was an interference with interstate commerce, Judge Wilkerson quoted the decision of Chief Justice Taft in the famous Coronado Coal company case against the United Mine Workers' union.

He will lunch as usual at the Iroquois club, of which club he is a charter member. In the evening he will attend a dinner given by his sons.

Madame Hoyne, former state's attorney, Eugene Hoyne, and Thomas M. Hoyne II, are also active in the law.

Mr. Hoyne is the son of a former mayor of Chicago and the father of a state's attorney. He was elected judge of the Circuit court in 1905; but never took office, as the Supreme court ruled there were no vacancies at the time.

Mr. Hoyne was graduated in 1866 from the old law school of the University of Chicago, founded by his father. He was admitted to the bar the year of his graduation. Since that time he has been active in practice. Only this year he handled one of the biggest civil law cases in the city. He was one of the organizers of the Chicago public library and served as president of the first board of directors. He has been president of the Chicago Bar association.

LIEUT. JENSEN IS HELD GUILTY OF CAPTIVE'S ABUSE

Lieut. Axel Jensen, leader of a detective bureau squad, was found guilty of harshly treating prisoners and fined thirty days pay by the civil service commission trial board yesterday.

Samuel Cherry, who complained that he lost $150 during a raid on his poolroom at 523 West Division street by Jensen's squad, was arrested and held for more than 20 hours without admission to bail. The board was told.

Cherry was counting his day's receipts when the squad entered the poolroom in search of contraband liquor. Two of the squad stationed themselves near a desk on which Cherry left $150 while he accompanied the other pair throughout the premises which disclosed no evidence of prohibition law violation. Later Cherry was arrested on the charge of possessing liquor.

Absence on furlough of two members of Lieut. John J. O'Brien's squad prevented a hearing of charges that the group had pocketed a substantial sum of money seized by them as evidence of gambling in a raid on the cigar store operated by Robert E. Galley, son of Police Captain Michael Galley, at 5626 Broadway.

secure the presence of an American on the reparations commission to rule on possible defaults by Germany. If this solution proves impossible and in the event of the reparations commission being divided in opinion as to the significance of the facts, the two governments would recommend that the reparations commission call in the agent general of reparations payments, who is to be of American nationality.

This is the job which Owen D. Young of New York is expected to hold.

"Section D. The Dawes report contains provisions to meet minor defaults by means of various supervisory organizations but willful default would at once raise the question of Germany's good faith. In the event of the reparations commission declaring such a default, all the governments concerned will then confer at once on how to put in operation such measures as they will agree to take in order to protect themselves and the investors.

Plan German Economic Unity.

"Section E. The plan by which the German economic and fiscal unity shall be restored as soon as the reparations commissions shall have decided that the Dawes reports are in operation shall be settled at the allied conference. The reparations commission will be asked to prepare and present to the interallied conference such a plan.

"Section G. In order to take full advantage of the reparations payments provided in the experts' report and feel secure that they may benefit the nations interested, the allies shall appoint a special body to advise the governments interested as to what organizations should be created in each country for putting to proper use the payments made by Germany (particularly by way of transfers and deliveries in kind).

Deny German Crisis Is Near.

[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]

BERLIN, July 16.—The government issued a statement tonight saying that talk of a government crisis is ridiculous.

lous, but the nationalist press asserts a "parliamentary crisis is nearer and larger than generally believed." Such a crisis would be the result of the government's desire to have a blanket law passed empowering the cabinet to act for the country in putting through the Dawes plan.

Drafts of three laws for carrying out the Dawes plan are now in the hands of the reparations commission. They cover the gold note bank, reorganization of the railroads, and a measure covering industrial obligations. The German government is of the opinion that the speed with which the German government acts on these points will depend entirely on the speed with which the reparations commission works.

How The Santa Fe dollar was spent in 1923

Taxes more than dividends. Rate reductions more than taxes.

The measure of success in railroad business is the relation of costs to returns. If the dollar earned does not cover the cost of earning it, the business fails. If it covers the cost with a margin over, the business succeeds.

THE SANTA FE DOLLAR IN 1923 WENT AS FOLLOWS:
Maintenance of track, buildings, etc.	13.37 cents
Maintenance of locomotives, freight and passenger cars	19.34
Train, station and switching, and other transportation	19.68
Traffic expenses	1.69
Payroll	8.49
Food and expenses of clerks and other general office employees	3.69
Legal, valuation, general officers, pensions and death benefits and miscellaneous	1.06
Depreciation and retirement, equipment and less plants	1.07
Loss, damage and casualties	1.24
Post of equipment, lost facilities, etc.	4.80
Interest on bonds and other interest charges	8.14
Dividends on capital stock	8.79
Balance available for expanding facilities	100.00 cents

Of the last item 3.02 cents came from sources other than rates so that a reduction of less than 6% in rates would have wiped out the entire margin of safety from earnings through rates.

Even a decline in gross business such as has occurred this year inevitably reduces this balance of 8.79 cents, because not many of the cost items can be cut down in proportion.

The adjustment between success and failure is a delicate one in the transportation industry. For the welfare of the country, it should not be lightly tampered with, either by laws or by the various commissions that control the main elements of railroad earnings and costs. It is particularly notable in the above statement that taxes were more than dividends and only a little less than all the fuel used for the system. Taxes were $20,316,491.

Good service requires ample money for operation and maintenance. Even a rather substantial reduction in rates would benefit individuals so slightly as hardly to be known, while it might readily (because of poor service) cause them tremendous loss which would be quickly and keenly felt.

A railroad gets money from its rates and has no other large source of supply, even though attempts seem to be made to have the public believe otherwise. Since 1921 freight rates have been almost continuously in process of reduction. Santa Fe freight earnings were $14,600,000 in 1922 and $23,945,000 in 1923 from what they would have been with 1921 rates.

The Santa Fe already has reduced freight rates many millions. But adequate service is vital for shippers. It can be furnished only when fair rates provide the money needed.

The Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe Railway System

FARMERS STUDY COMBINE OF BIG GRAIN ELEVATOR

Co-operative Concords Makes Rapid Strides

BY FRANK RIDGWAY.

With binders and thrashers humming and train loads of grain ready to be shipped, the combine of the Farmers' Co-operative Concords, a newly organized cooperative grain marketing company, moved along so rapidly yesterday that new developments reported every hour during the day. Details of the organization of $25,000,000 grain marketing company, whose articles of incorporation have been approved by the secretary of the Illinois State Board of Agriculture, were set forth in a statement made by the American Farm Bureau federation. John W. Coverdale, secretary of farm bureau, said in the statement the first job of the company's board of directors, whose names are not yet public, will be to deal officially with the proposed plan of taking over elevators and other facilities of the grain marketing company. Rosenbaum Bros., Shaffer & Co., and Davis-Noland-McGrain company.

Farmers now have an official to turn out the details of the proposed plan. Buying or leasing what elevators they need, if the final plan is accepted will be left in the hands of the board of directors.

The bureau's statement lists the following men who have accepted part on the temporary board of directors: O. E. Bradford, Ohio, president of American Farm Bureau; W. J. Brundage, president of the Illinois Wheat Growers' Association; Harry L. K. Nabraska, president of the U. S. C. Growers, Inc.; Fred A. Mudge, Ill., president of the Illinois Farm Elevator association; J. M. Dyer, Ill., president of the Iowa Farm Elevator association; Millard H. M. representing Illinois farmers' interests; J. F. Reed, Minnesota, vice president of the American Farm Bureau; Oscar Ashworth, Minn., grain farmer; Gray Silver, Minn., grain farmer; Washington representative of the American Farm Bureau; J. W. Coverdale, Iowa, farmer and secretary of the American Farm Bureau federation.

Has Plenty of Capital.

Nothing is said in the article of incorporation about the source of the company's capital, but the price of the shares, paid, but the issuance of the shares creates a marketing organization, which can take over the terminal elevators and other facilities needed.

"Upon completion of the final arrangements the company will be in business with a $4,000,000 paid in capital," the statement says. "This capital will be supplied by the grain marketing companies which are taken over by the new co-operative."

As producers invest in common stock, a preferred stock will be used to retire Class B stock at $50 a share. Both common and preferred stock will draw per cent dividend annually, to be paid only out of earnings. B stock will be sold for financing purposes if any one wants to buy it.

It is understood the new grain marketing company expects to do a large grain selling business, but

THE Yankee stadium, home of the New American League baseball club, has a seating capacity of 65,000 for baseball; 75,000 for football; and 80,000 for boxing. It cost $2,000,000.

Millions are spent on the entertainment of the American public. Publishing, for instance, huge resources are being poured into the Hearst International with feature upon feature for entertainment, culture and education.

FARMERS STUDY
COMBINE OF BIG
GRAIN ELEVATORS

Co-operative Concern
Makes Rapid Strides.

BY FRANK RIDGWAY.

With binders and thrashers humming and train loads of grain ready to roll onto the market, plans of the farmers' newly organized co-operative grain marketing company moved along so rapidly yesterday that new developments were reported every hour during the day. Details of the organization of the $25,000,000 grain marketing company, whose articles of incorporation have been approved by the secretary of state, were set forth in a statement made by the American Farm Bureau federation, John W. Coverdale, secretary of the farm bureau, said in the statement that the first job of the company's board of directors, whose names are now made public, will be to deal officially with the proposed plan of taking over the elevators and other facilities of the American grain company, Rosenbaum Grain company, Rosenbaum Bros., J. C. Shaffer & Co., and Davis-Noland-Merrill Grain company.

Farmers now have an official body to turn out the details of the proposed plan. Buying or leasing what elevators they need. If the final plan is accepted, will be left in the hands of the board of directors.

The bureau's statement lists the following men who have accepted places on the temporary board of directors: O. E. Bradford, Ohio, president of the American farm bureau; W. J. Brown, Minnesota, president of the American Wheat Growers, Inc.; Harry L. Keefe, Nebraska, president of the U. S. Grain Growers, Inc.; Fred A. Mudge, Peru, Ill., president of the Illinois Farmers' Elevator association; J. M. Dyer, Spencer, Ia., president of the Iowa Farm Elevator association; Millard H. Myers, representing Illinois farmers' elevators; J. F. Reed, Minnesota, vice president of the American Farm Bureau federation; Oscar Ashworth, Mattoon, Ill., grain farmer; Gray Silver, West Virginia, Washington representative of the American Farm Bureau federation, and J. W. Coverdale, Iowa grain farmer and secretary of the American Farm Bureau federation.

Has Plenty of Capital.
Nothing is said in the articles of incorporation about buying the grain merchants' facilities or the price to be paid, but the issuance of the charter creates a marketing organization, it is said, with sufficient capital that it can take over the terminal elevators and other facilities needed.

"Upon completion of the final arrangements the company will begin business with a $4,000,000 paid in working capital," it is said.

"This capital will be supplied through the grain marketing companies that are taken over by the new co-operative."

As producers invest in common and Class A preferred stocks the latter will be used to retire Class B stock in like amount automatically, preventing the capital stock from ever becoming more than $25,000,000. This is divided up into 1,000,000 shares of common stock at $1 a share, 1,000,000 Class A at $25, and 500,000 shares of Class B stock at $50 a share. Both common and preferred stock will draw an 8 per cent. dividend annually, which is to be paid only out of earnings. Class B stock will be sold for immediate financing purposes to any one who wants to buy it.

It is understood the new grain marketing company expects to do a regular grain selling business, both do-domestic and export, operating according to rules and customs of the various exchanges.

Meets with Criticism.

The proposed acquisition plan has already met with criticism among some of the leaders of the co-operative marketing movement. W. H. Settle, one of the leaders in the wheat pooling plan now being presented to Hoosier farmers, said: "Seemingly it is a movement by the big five on the Chicago Board of Trade, working with the American Farm Bureau federation, to disrupt and hinder the wheat pool movement now in progress in thirteen states."

Walton Peiset, secretary of the National Council of Farmers' Co-operative Marketing associations, in a statement issued yesterday afternoon from the organization's headquarters here, offering what he called "intelligent" criticism, said:

"The producers would still sell their grain as at present, and would still grope blindly to find the right time to sell. The co-operative commodity marketing plan involves the organization of producers to effect pooling and orderly selling, substituting the efficiency of group selling for the inefficiency of individual dumping."

U. S. FINGERING
PADLOCKS FOR O'BANNION BEER

Prospects of a surcease from the current beerless era became more remote yesterday when Judge Wilkerson took action against three of the largest plants in Chicago with a view of ascertaining if they should be closed permanently.

All three of the places are said to house thousands of gallons of fine brew, ranging in alcoholic content from 3.5 per cent to 4.25 per cent.

The three plants are: The Sieben brewery, controlled by the O'Bannon-Torrio gang, scene of one of the most spectacular raids in the history of prohibition. Danny O'Connor, well known politician; O'Bannon, and Torrio were arrested during a raid at dawn. They, with four policemen and twenty beer hustlers, are awaiting trial on criminal charges.

The Malt Maid brewery, also controlled by O'Bannon and Torrio, after a tipoff that raiders were headed for the brewery.

The White Eagle brewery, now under temporary injunction as a result of charges that the plant is not confined to manufacture of "near-o."

Judge Wilkerson ordered the Sieben and Malt Maid cases to be heard by Master in Chancery Fletcher Dobyns and instructed the government to proceed in his court against the White Eagle concern.

The jurist also took another fling at Messrs. Druggan and Lake, whom he "set back" for a year in jail in a decision handed down last week. Although the matter wasn't generally known, the two beer runners manufactured ginger ale. A Canadian firm claims they stole their label idea. Judge Wilkerson issued an order restraining them from use of the design.

SEVERINGHAUS
FOR 'LITERATURE'

Campaign Printing Bill
Unpaid, Charge.

The Severinghaus Printing company, officers of which enjoyed many favors during the William Hale Thompson administration, yesterday filed suit for $150,000 damages against Thompson and eighteen other one-time leaders allied with him.

Attorney S. O. Levinson, who filed the principle in the suit, was out of the city, but at his office it was said the politicians were sued as members of the William Hale Thompson Republican club.

Charge Failure to Pay.

The club failed to make payment, it was said, for thousands of dollars worth of printing—mostly campaign literature and propaganda circulated by the Thompson club.

Among the defendants is Albert Severinghaus, former school trustee, and an uncle of Milton Severinghaus, head of the printing company.

List of Defendants.

The other defendants are: Eugene R. Pike, president of the Lincoln Park board; Samuel A. Etelson, former corporation counsel; George F. Harding, former city controller; Edwin S. Davis, former president of the school board; Michael J. Faherty, former president of the board of local improvements; Charles J. Peters, Thompson ward committeeman; Morris Eiler, sanitary district trustee; Coroner Oscar Wolf; August Miller, clerk of the Circuit court; Frank Meese and Ernest Lyons, real estate experts; Thomas J. Hickey, former school engineer; Charles E. Ward, William Barclay, Helmar C. Patterson, William H. Reid, and Ernest Withall.

Gompers Still Gains; May Go to Federation Meeting

New York, July 16.—(Special.)—Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, who is recuperating at Brighton Beach from a recent illness, continues to improve, it was said today. It is expected he will have recovered sufficiently Aug. 1 to attend the annual meeting of the executive committee of the federation in Atlantic City.

LPL TOPSY HURT
'EM, COPS CHARGE
IN $60,000 SUITS

Ask Damages from the Duncans.

Cicero's cops—those involved in the much discussed encounter with the Duncan sisters and their brother Harold—broadcast a few charges themselves yesterday when they filed six suits, each asking $10,000 damages, against Rosetta ("Topsy") Duncan, and Brother Harold.

The suits, filed by Edward J. Carmody, attorney for the city of Cicero, are based on charges of assault and slander.

Even the police chief, Theodore L. Svoboda, says he has been damaged in reputation to the extent of $10,000. He asks that sum of Harold Duncan, who is also sued by Charles Strohm, the traffic officer who arrested the Duncans, by Charles W. Lock, the cop whose arm bore an injury he says was made by Rosetta's teeth, and by Officer Benjamin Delany who is said to have succored the hefty Wedlock in distress.

Rosetta is sued by Officers Witlock and Delany, the former perhaps because of the alleged bite and because he has been pictured as a 230-pounder picking on the nose of a 120 pound dancer.

4 COAST STATES
STILL FIGHTING
FOREST FIRES

San Francisco, Cal., July 16.—Four western states, two of them bordering on the Pacific ocean, and British Columbia, continued to suffer from forest fires today and reports indicated that many of the fires were beyond control. The fires in Oregon and British Columbia were placed under control either by fire fighters or heavy rains.

In California four national forests were scenes of destruction. In the Shasta national forest the flames were subdued after having swept an area twelve miles in circumference. The Tahoe forest fire advanced three and one-half miles and destroyed seventy-five cattle.

In the Santa Barbara national forest 200 men were on the fire lines and the blaze driven by a strong wind. Lightning started twelve fires in the Klamath national forest, but most of them were extinguished.

Eastern Washington and northern Idaho reported property destroyed in the Pend Oreille river valley, and near Kellogg, and a fire ascending Government gulch toward the Bunker Hill, and Sullivan mine.

Large fires on the McKenzie and Cartier mountains, south of Revelstoke, Canada, were under control, but not the big fire at Donald.

M. O. DOESN'T CARE.

The water plant of Chicago, municipally owned and operated, was run last year with an income of $3.30 cents per 1,000 gallons and an outgo of $2.67 per 1,000 gallons. This deficit of thirty-seven hundredths of a cent aggregates about $1,100,000 for the year. There is a similar record for preceding years.

There once was a small yearly surplus. That worried the political management. A policy of increasing the discount was adopted. That was good politics. It wiped out the surplus and created the deficit. The deficit is made up by borrowing on water certificates. The plant is run at a loss and sustained by borrowing money.

The council refuses to decrease the outgo by decreasing the amount of water pumped and wasted. Commissioner of Public Works Sprague demands that the council will not listen. "It could be done by making all the water service metered. If meters were installed for all water users it is estimated that nearly $300,000,000 could be saved in the next thirty years. That is abundant to politicians because thousands of voters find it convenient to waste water for which they do not have to pay. This is a fair sample of municipal operation. The successful maintenance of a water supply is one of the simplest services in which a municipality could be engaged. If politics cannot run a water plant it cannot run anything.

We never find an advocate of municipal ownership and operation giving a hang what happens to a utility to which his theory has been applied. It is sufficient that the theory shall be adopted. The consequences of it are not considered. One would think that the advocates would accept the test and prove their case, but they are content that the proof in each experiment should run against them. That does not deter them from insisting that the field of the experiment must be increased.

From the demonstrated case that the city cannot run a water plant without breaking it down financially and heading it towards insolvency the theorists proceed to the demand that the city take over street cars and run them regardless of consequences.

When a sensible administrator, such as Mr. Sprague, tries to use proper methods politics will not permit it. Politics and good public service are contradictions. Their purposes are antagonistic. Some public service must be political, but the necessity does not escape the consequences.

TELL IT TO THE OTHER FELLOWS.

The Russian soviet government has bought 530 airplanes, forty tanks, and sixty-five submarine chasers in the last three months in Holland, Italy, and Switzerland. It also has been getting naval equipment from Japan.

There is military activity and preparation in nearly every resourceful part of the globe except in the United States. America does not remedy admitted deficiencies in the air, on the sea, or on land. But America is the land of the aggressive jacobins demanding total prostration of defense.

Here is a peaceable nation taking chances which no other responsible nation takes and attacked by its army pacifists. The field for such activity is abroad. Our peace groups should do their stuff where it is needed, with Comrade Trotsky, with the Japanese, with the French, with the Little Entente.

They do not need to hold us. We are not starting anything, but if they could persuade some of the other fellows to be peaceable we might be safer with the little we have.

OLO, THE PHILOSOPHER.

Olo, the white Indian from Darien, may be a new specimen for ethnologists or he may be an albino, but he is not interested in New York. Pretentious skyliners left Olo unimpressed as he sailed up the harbor on the Calumet. The torch of Liberty thrilled him not at all. The subway was only a new darkness and roaring; the Woolworth only a little hill.

The wonders of civilization may be many, but it takes an education to see them. The sophisticated have awe for them and a perception of their grandeur. Others waste less time in celebrating human works.

The Woolworth tower or the temple on Clark street are after all only minor triumphs from the level of the earth. The subway is only a somewhat neater cave than nature makes. The skyline is a hill facade not unusual in the broken country. And to Olo, used to the jungle, New York must be more or less familiar.

Olo's mind is evidently unprejudiced by human works. His eye is innocent. The hill and cave and cliff are not reduced to literary playthings. They are intimate facts of his environment. The tower and tube and the famous skyline are in no way aggrandized by the sense of human effort in their making. All are natural works to Olo. They are taken for granted. All have their proper places.

To Olo, New York no doubt produces no greater wonder than ice cream. The strange sweetness of a purple soap probably delights his nostrils. Sugar and soap must be profoundly new in his impressionistic system. Soap suds will hit him harder than the Brooklyn bridge; why wonder at the latter?

Wonder may be only a sophisticated variety. Olo, if we care to take him that way, is the true skeptic.

CO-OPERATIVE GRAIN MARKETING.

Co-operative grain marketing. It may be hoped, will have a thorough and fair test in the recently chartered $20,000,000 Grain Marketing company. With farmer ownership as planned and a directorate including men responsible to the farmers and to the American Farm Bureau, it will be a project in a large scale selling organization of grain farmers that hitherto has been impossible. Though more than 4,000 co-operative grain elevators are already operating in the Mississippi valley, they have been only a minor amelioration of the farmers' distress. Without co-operation between themselves, these elevator companies have done what the individual farmer in the market had done before: they dumped their goods and cut each other's prices without much gain to the farmers as a whole. The new company will take the co-operative experiment beyond this, into the field of general marketing control.

In general, there are two kinds of co-operative associations. In one, each member's voting power is in proportion to the amount of stock that he holds. In the other, each member is allowed one vote, no matter how much stock he has. After fixed profits and savings are accounted for, the rest is prorated to all members according to the business each has done through the association. This is the method of the patronage dividend. Modern co-operatives, according to White and Hayward, are usually of the second type. The new grain marketing company's preferred stock will bear 8 per cent dividends if earned. Patronage dividends will also be given to farmers, subject to the same "if."

Old-fashioned marketing underlies much of the grain farmers' difficulties. Transportation, after all, is effective. Rates may be high, but the grain does arrive. The farmers' production has become more and more efficient in recent years. It produces the goods. But marketing has not advanced with transportation and production. Agriculture is different from most industry in that production is and probably will remain individual. In the farmer's concentration on production he has neglected organized marketing. Co-operative marketing remains the great experiment for him to make.

In California more than 80,000 farmers are organized into co-operative marketing associations. Each body is built around one product or group of products. Oranges, lemons, milk, eggs, pears, raisins, are a few of them. But western fruit growers work under conditions that are less coercive on middle western general farmers. Their highly specialized organizations very likely would not be tolerated by the grain and hog raisers. They have accepted a discipline extending from the treatment of fruit on the tree to the final marketing. It is doubtful if the general farmers of the middle west, under a diversity of climatic, racial, geographical, and economic conditions, will accept the same. Co-operative problems in the older parts of the country are more difficult.

The experiment in any case will be worth trying. It will give the farmer experience in marketing problems. Those who wish the farmer well will hope that this will prove to be the way to reduce that too wide interval between the prices that he pays and the prices that he gets.

WHY WE MOBILIZE.

Blunder killed more men in the great war than bullets. At Kut-el-Amara, in Macedonia, at the Dardanelles, in East Africa and above all in Europe the old story of inadequate preparation, lack of supplies, lack of close liaison, was repeated over and over with sickening routine. Wounded men died of exposure at Kut because somehow the army there had less than half its authorized military equipment. More thousands died of malaria in Macedonia because adequate plans had not been made to control the prevailing health danger of the region. More died at the Dardanelles because of the inefficiency of an untried operation. They don't want war. But they want to know what to do if war comes. Mobilization day on September 12 is planned as an annual test of our military machinery. It is not a celebration. It is merely going through the steps of mobilization.

Other people in this country have not learned the lesson. They have not felt the despair and helplessness of the sick or wounded soldier who sees death facing him because somebody has bungled hospitalizing plans. They oppose mobilization day. And the lives of American boys will pay for their opposition, if it succeeds.

The Other Side

THE WORKING CLASS SOUL.
[The Liberator.]

What is happening today in the United States is no new upheaval of protest. We are entering into a new phase of the development of the class struggle. The forces which capitalist society are reaching a climax. The soul of the working class is being created. The creation of a working class with a soul—that is, a working class conscious of itself as a class, conscious that it has a historic mission to perform, ready to fight and sacrifice and suffer, in order that its aspirations may be fulfilled—is not the fulfillment of a moment. The soul of the working class can only be born through long suffering and travail.

Though this be true, the June 17 Farmer-Labor convention will stand as a historic date in the development of the American working class. Out of this convention there promises to come a group of million or more of workers and farmers who consciously enter into the struggle against the rule of the capitalists. No greater single achievement could be looked for in the present historic moment than that a million organized farmers and workers should be arrayed in the conscious struggle to wrest the governmental power out of the hands of the capitalist class.

Once the break with old traditions has been made, once the workers are organized in a separate, distinct political organization, which stands for their class interests, they will move forward quickly. In the battles which they fight they will learn the lesson of solidarity. They will gain a clear vision of their mission as a class.

Many men and women who for years have given their services to the working class movement in the United States have lost hope because of the slow development of the American labor movement. They have concluded that in the United States the day of revolutionary struggle was far away. In doing so they have forgotten, if they knew, the underlying laws of social development. Capitalist production has moved forward. With it is coming a new development of the working class movement. The soul of the American working class is being born. The revolutionary struggle is before us.

BOARD ACTS TO CURB SPEED OF S. SIDE BUSES

Commission to Frame New Regulations.

New regulations governing motor buses on the south side boulevards were ordered drawn up by the south side board at its meeting yesterday. The action came after Attorney Otto P. Lightfoot of the Chicago Motor Club appeared before the board and charged the company with reckless operation of their vehicles and petitioned the commissioners to draw up new and stringent regulations.

Commission Named.
The board then appointed a commission, L. B. Patterson, Supt. J. F. Foster, and Capt. T. D. Richard to act as a commission and confer with motor clubs and officials of the bus company and draw up new traffic regulations. Attorney Lightfoot charged that buses had been known to race abreast at a speed of thirty-five miles an hour on the south side.

He asked that the company be required to install governors on the motors to regulate the speed to twenty miles an hour. A system of stopping that would eliminate the necessity of buses passing each other while going in the same direction.

Pleas for Company.
Attorney James G. Condon of the motor bus company argued against the petition. He declared that 80,000 passengers had been carried by the company's vehicles since 1914 and only five persons had been killed. Accidents due to buses running around each other had only resulted in one death, he said.

"Motor buses now in operation carry 400,000 passengers on July 4, 5, and 6 without accident," Mr. Lightfoot said, "while fifteen persons were killed in the same period by automobiles in Cook county."

Protest Boulevard Use.
Property owners in the vicinity of Jackson boulevard and Kolmar avenue protested the use of Jackson boulevard by buses and the use of public streets for terminals.

The protest was registered in petitions filed with Col. A. A. Sprague, commissioner of public works. The signers accused bus employees of being boisterous and making the terminals a nuisance.

Five Cleared of Riot Charge in Girl Shooting
Five neighbors, charged with instigating a riot on June 28 in which an 11-year-old girl was shot, were dismissed in Des Plaines street court yesterday for lack of evidence. They were Michael and Joseph Curato, Michael and Joseph Belente, and Joseph Spano. The first four live at 38 and the latter at 619 Aberdeen street.

ANNOUNCING THE DOCTORS.

UT HE STILL DISAGREES.
July 13.—I wish to congratulate you on the fairness you express in giving this space to protests of citizens who take exception to your editorial under date of July 10, entitled "For Compulsory Good Health."

HOSEA STOWMY CAMPBELL, Committee on Vaccination, Christian Science.

DOESN'T LIKE OUR MOTTO.

It would be appropriate to place with it the likewise more famous remark, "God bless me, wife, my son John and his wife—no and no more."

It seems to you really patriotic to a motto which tries to justify every in history? WILBUR O. MANCHESTER.

REVOLUTIONARY FEVER
The result of the Brazilian revolt in Sao Paulo is in doubt. There were reports that the federal artillery had the rebels outclassed, and then suddenly the Brazilian government suppressed the American press associations so that no unbiased news is coming from the country. This may mean that a crisis is occurring in Brazil.

The loss was discovered shortly after a middle-aged man who had sat beside Miss Cameron left the coach at the Bryn Mawr station. Police are looking for him.

Federals Increase Strength.
Washington, D. C., July 16.—(By the Associated Press.)—The Brazilian government troops operating against the Sao Paulo insurrectionists have been augmented by new forces, whose organization has just been completed, it was stated in an official communique sent by Rio de Janeiro to the embassy here. An important action is under way on the whole length of the Sao Paulo front, the dispatch added.

Among the prisoners captured yesterday by Brazilian government troops attacking the rebels at Sao Paulo were inmates of the penitentiary, who had been freed by the revolutionists, according to official dispatches received at the Brazilian embassy.

Peru Revolt Ends.

BRAZIL CLAMPS LID ON AMERICAN PRESS SERVICES

HUENOS AIRES, July 16.—(By Associated Press.)—Authoritative advice received here today from Rio Janeiro state that the Brazilian government yesterday stopped the American press associations from sending or receiving news dispatches in Brazil.

Both the Associated Press and the United Press serve newspapers in Brazil and apparently the censorship has been so extended as to prevent the sending or receiving of messages considered unfavorable to the government interests.

An official Brazilian communique from Rio Janeiro was received by La Nacion at midnight stating that the federalists "won an important action against the rebels, capturing many prisoners."

Federals Increase Strength.
Washington, D. C., July 16.—(By the Associated Press.)—The Brazilian government troops operating against the Sao Paulo insurrectionists have been augmented by new forces, whose organization has just been completed, it was stated in an official communique sent by Rio de Janeiro to the embassy here.

An important action is under way on the whole length of the Sao Paulo front, the dispatch added.

Among the prisoners captured yesterday by Brazilian government troops attacking the rebels at Sao Paulo were inmates of the penitentiary, who had been freed by the revolutionists, according to official dispatches received at the Brazilian embassy.

SEES MENACE IN S.O.S.; THREATENS CITY OFFICIALS

S. O. S. (Safety or Sorrow) stenciled on the walk in every block, placarded on telephone poles and in street cars, elevated trains and taxicabs, is believed to have driven Alex Hada of the Jackson Beach hotel, 1552 East 63d street, temporarily insane yesterday.

He wrote threatening notes to various city officials, one of which reached Capt. John Prendergast, secretary to Chief of Police Collins.

"Safety or Sorrow—you have but ten days to live," read the note addressed to Chief Collins and signed by Hada. Sgt. Harry Donnelly brought Hada in and a search of his clothes uncovered an open knife, as well as several more notes of similar portent.

"That mayor's safety commission is after me and I must get them, before they get me," Hada explained to Capt. Prendergast and Dr. William Hickson, city psychopathic expert, who ordered the man confined in the psychopathic hospital for observation.

KIMBALL GRAND PIANOS

THE abiding confidence of the public in the KIMBALL quality-standard is founded on the perfection maintained in every type of piano offered by this 67-year-old organization.

The same standard of merit is revealed in the deep, rich resonance of the superb Concert Grand, and to the same degree in the purity and volume of tone that distinguish the Small Grand—though occupying little more floor space than an upright. It appears in every KIMBALL Grand and Upright placed on display.

To a marked degree it is seen in the wonderful KIMBALL Reproducing Grand, which brings the greatest present-day pianists into your own home-circle, so faithfully and realistically does it reproduce their interpretations, through the Welte* principle.

It is built in exact conformity to the lines of the regular Grands—note Style 36 (medium size) shown above, with the roll conveniently placed above the keyboard. Or, if preferred, you may have the drawer type, placed below the keyboard.

Come today—ask to hear Lhevinne, Narinska, De Pachmann—or any artist whose playing you especially prefer.

HIS HOME TOWN AT A RALLY HAS DAVIS ON STUMP

All New to Him as "Breach of Promise."

Locust Valley, N. Y., July 16.—John W. Davis, Democratic nominee, tonight made his first appearance on a public platform since he was named a candidate for the presidency when he responded to the cheers and congratulations of his friends and neighbors of Locust Valley and nearby villages.

About 500 took part in "congratulatory service" in the Matinecock Neighborhood House. In the front rows sat the intimate friends of Mr. Davis. His entry was the signal for earnest cheering, and all references to the honor rendered him by his party were applauded.

F. W. M. Cutchener, chairman of the board of contract and adjustment of the A. E. F. Winslow S. Pierce, chairman of the board of the Wabash railway, Benjamin Downing of Locust Valley, F. Trubee Davison, Republican assemblyman from Nassau county, and the Rev. Charles W. Hinton of St. John's Episcopal church, delivered eulogies of Mr. Davis.

A Republican Neighbor Is There. Mr. Davison explained that, although he was a Republican, he was present tonight because the function was neighborly, rather than political. The presidential candidate's speech was devoid of politics. When he had concluded there was an outburst of applause and he was presented with a resolution embodying sentiment of

"ROGUES GALLERY" OF BOOTLEGGERS PLANNED TO FOIL JAIL DODGING

Duluth, Minn., July 16.—Because the government suspects that convicted bootleggers are hiring substitutes to serve their sentences in county jails, Lafayette French Jr., United States district attorney, announced today that the government plans to photograph bootleggers to prevent such substitutions.

Many bootleggers, on conviction, obtain a stay of a few days in their sentences, presumably to adjust their affairs. Mr. French said this interval sometimes is used to procure a substitute. Frequently court adjourns while the convicted men are at liberty under bond, and when the time comes to surrender, he said, they do not face those who convicted them.

In addition to preventing substitutions, Mr. French said, the photographs would also serve to identify some of the men who, arrested a second or third time, used fictitious names to avoid more drastic sentences.

good will from those who had heard him.

This is my first attempt on any stage in the guise of a presidential candidate," he said, "and I feel awkward and not accustomed to the role. Indeed, my appearance is premature, for I have nothing but rumor for the fact of my nomination."

"Within two or three weeks I shall be duly apprised of it, and until then it is my duty to deny all knowledge on the subject."

"I have already discovered that the life of a prospective presidential candidate is not a bed of roses."

Democrat Turned Methodist. "I received today a letter from a man in Delaware, who told me of an old cobbler in his town who had been a lifelong Democrat, but who, since the convention, had announced he was a Methodist, and a prohibitionist and would never vote for any man who had been president of a bar association.

"And, just to show there is such a thing as human generosity, I shall tell you of a letter from a man, from Pennsylvania, I think. He said he was sorry to learn I had been sued for breach of promise, and added that he knew the lady and could tell me something about her that could help me in my defense."

"I believe all free government comes from the people and not from any source downward. The country is what the mass of the people make it. We have cast our all upon that principle. We have trusted our future to that creed. Security, progress, and prosperity lie in the keeping of the individual citizen."

Campaign Chief Not Chosen. Mr. Davis in the afternoon announced, after several conferences with Democratic leaders, that his campaign manager and his choice for chairman of the national committee had not been decided.

He also said he had severed his connection with his law firm, Stetson, Jennings, Russell and Davis, and resigned directorates in the following corporations: A. T. & S. F. railway, United States Rubber company, and the National Bank of Commerce of New York.

He also resigned as general counsel for the Associated Press.

DE VALERA AND AUSTIN STACK FREED BY ERIN

LONDON, July 16.—[By the Associated Press.]—Eamonn de Valera and Austin Stack, Irish republican leaders, were released from prison today by the Free State government, according to a news agency dispatch from Dublin.

Fight Over Trust Funds. New York, July 16.—Supreme Court Justice Burr today was asked to enjoin the Irish Free State from proceeding to trial July 22 before the high court of justice of Ireland in a suit to obtain possession of $2,500,000 collected through the sale of bonds in this country for the Irish republic. He reserved decision.

PIG WIG FOUNDER WINS RIGHT TO OPEN NEW CHAIN

Columbus, O., July 16.—[By the Associated Press.]—Clarence Saunders, founder of the Piggly-Wiggly corporation and later its president, may use any operation improvements of his own origination in other enterprises, the United States Circuit Court of Appeals ruled today in modifying an injunction granted the corporation against Saunders.

The injunction sought to restrain Saunders from organizing or operating similar self-service stores, claiming that it was an infringement on the patents owned by the corporation since Saunders lost interest in the corporation in Wall Street transactions.

May Run Chain Stores. The modified injunction permits Saunders to engage in the retail grocery business and operate self-service stores, but under different methods than the present Piggly-Wiggly.

The court ruled that "Saunders may not use his own name in such connection as to deceive the public or deprive the plaintiff of the benefits of the rights, privileges, and good will of the business he originated, extensively advertised, and sold to the plaintiff."

Closes Legal Chapter. Memphis, Tenn., July 16.—The decision of the United States Court of Appeals in the injunction proceedings brought by the Piggly Wiggly corporation against Clarence Saunders marks the end of another chapter in the long and colorful story of Saunders' business and financial career.

The injunction, aimed at a new chain stores system which Saunders organized following his resignation as president of the Piggly Wiggly corporation last summer, was granted by Federal Judge J. W. Ross here last March 6, the day before Saunders planned to open the first unit of his proposed chain. The injunction prevented Saunders opening his first store and enjoined him from using his name as a part of a trade name which he had devised for his new system.

Later, in allowing an appeal, however, Judge Ross modified the original order by granting Saunders permission to engage in business under his own name, as an individual.

Henrici's in the summertime

Drawing upon rich experience, of considerably more than half a century, in promoting the comfort and satisfaction of patrons, the Henrici organization is not dependent upon the whims of the weather.

For instance, the matter of ventilation—you do not find in Henrici's the chill dampness characteristic of some methods of artificial ventilation. The warm weather comfort at Henrici's is induced by a perfected system of ventilation that circulates natural fresh air, in ample volume, without strong draft or other objectionable features.

Even as the ventilation system proves the case for itself, so the perfection of the method of food refrigeration is evidenced by the prime condition of all food served. During "hot spells" compare the condition of even the most perishable foods as served at Henrici's with the condition of foods as served elsewhere.

And, when you consult the menu, notice the light summer dishes listed in variety so wide that you hardly know which delicious suggestions to accept.

Many intelligent and trained minds are constantly working with harmonious effect to please you, when you come to Henrici's for breakfast, luncheon, dinner or late supper, regardless of atmospheric conditions.

Why not Henrici's today?

$50,000,000 TAX SURPLUS IN SIGHT, NEW BOARD TOLD

Washington, D. C., July 16.—(Special.)—Acting Secretary of the Treasury Garard Winston in addressing the first meeting of the new board of tax appeals today announced that a revised estimate shows a surplus of $50,000,000 in prospect at the end of the fiscal year 1925, recently commenced. This is double the estimated surplus given by President Coolidge in his address at the semi-annual budget meeting on June 16, and indicates that all likelihood of a deficit has vanished.

Mr. Winston, however, warned that the new board of tax appeals must expedite cases so as not to slow up receipts from back taxes which were amounting to from $30,000,000 to $40,000,000 per month up to the time of the passage of the revenue law when a slump took place on account of the change in system of handling disputed cases.

Bigger Surplus in Prospect.
The latest estimate of $50,000,000 as the 1925 fiscal year surplus does not take account of the saving of $83,000,000 which President Coolidge has asked departments to make below amounts appropriated for their expenditures during the year. Adding these two sums together a surplus of $133,000,000 is a possibility.

The meeting of the board of tax appeals, created under the new revenue law as an agency entirely separate from the treasury, was called to order by Mr. Winston, who said that while the board was an independent body it was desirable that it should work in close cooperation with the internal revenue bureau. At Mr. Winston's suggestion, Charles D. Hamel, who has served as chairman of the committee on appeals and review of the internal revenue bureau, was chosen chairman.

Twelve Members Appointed.
Eleven members have been named thus far by President Coolidge, besides Mr. Hamel. They are: J. G. Korn, B. H. Littleton, C. F. Smith, and C. M. Trammell, all of whom have been connected with the internal revenue bureau; A. E. James and J. S. Y. Kas, and John J. Marquette of Washington, D. C. Sixteen additional members will be appointed by the President later.

It will be some weeks before the board is ready to begin hearings on appeals from decisions of the commissioner of internal revenue. The hearings will be public, by requirement of the new law. Regulations are to be prepared at once to govern procedure. The plan is to divide the board of twenty-eight into nine groups of three each, with the chairman in general charge of all. The nine groups will sit at nine different points. The eight probable points besides Washington, Kansas City, Dallas, Salt Lake City, and San Francisco.

VACCINATE 10,000 IN CLEVELAND TO FIGHT SMALLPOX

Cleveland, O., July 16.—After 10,000 persons had been vaccinated as a precaution against smallpox, quarantine, covering a district of three streets in Woodland and Central avenues was raised tonight by Health Commissioner Harry L. Rockwood. A small army of physicians and nurses engaged in the work.

The quarantine began before day light today with the roping off of all traffic and a police guard of 75 men remained in charge.

PARIS AD MEN WILL ENTERTAIN 500 AMERICANS

Tribune Man Speaks at Convention.
BY JOHN STEELE.

(Copyright, 1924, By The Chicago Tribune.)

LONDON, July 16.—Arrangements have been made for a visit to Paris by five hundred of the American delegates of the international advertising convention at Wembley as the guests of the French advertising men.

The Americans will leave London on July 26, remaining in Paris until July 29. An entertainment committee has been formed with Senator Paul Dupuy as chairman. The delegates will travel to Paris on special trains provided by the French advertising men, and will enjoy special accommodations at the leading Paris hotels at special rates. W. E. Donahue of The Chicago Tribune addressed the newspaper executives' department today, giving a full exposition of the home system of merchandising as evolved by The Tribune.

Mr. Donahue described The Tribune as a typical up to date advertising medium, eager to be able to do the best possible for the manufacturer and merchant. He brought home to the English delegates especially the immense sphere of usefulness which newspapers can fill and which some newspapers are actually filling in putting the right goods in the right section at the least cost to both the producer and the consumer.

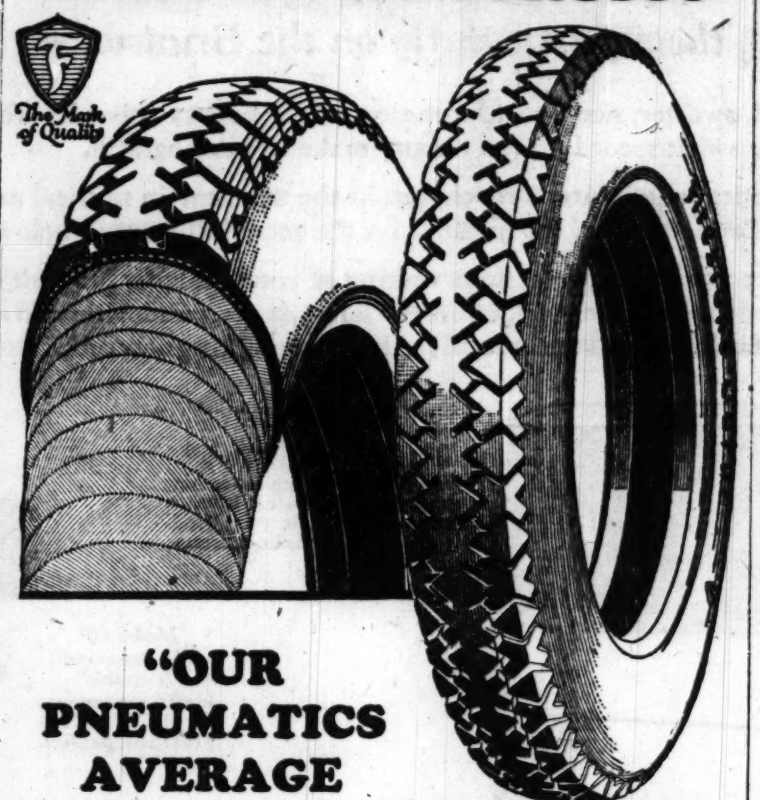

Another interesting speaker was Gordon Selfridge, a former Chicagoan and now a London merchant prince, who addressed the business research department.

Cop Shot by Bandits Succumbs to Wounds

Policeman James Williams, colored patrolman of the Cottage Grove avenue station, who fell fighting four Negro holdup men Monday evening, died of his wounds late yesterday at Michael Reese hospital. Nathan Paulette of 70 East 28th street, one of several suspects picked up shortly after the shooting, is being treated at the Bridewell hospital for a bullet wound inflicted by Williams in the gun battle. His condition is still serious.

FISHERMAN DROWNS IN RIVER.
Rockford, Ill., July 16.—Arthur McKinley, 40 years old, of Durand, Ill., was drowned early today in the Wisconsin river at Prairie du Sac, Wis., when a boat in which he was fishing capsized.

Firestone TRUCK PNEUMATIC

"OUR PNEUMATICS AVERAGE 20,000 MILES ON 32 BUSES"

Independent Touring Car Line, Asheville, N. C., says "More Miles and Better Service with Firestones."

"We use Firestone Gum-Dipped Pneumatics because we can get more miles for our money and better service than from any other tire that we have ever used," writes J. H. Paston, of the Independent Touring Car Line, Asheville, North Carolina.

"We find that our pneumatics average 20,000 miles per tire, which we consider especially good in view of the fact that our 32 buses travel in a difficult mountain territory."

Bus service is hard on tires—fast schedules, continual stops and starts, heavy loads, cut-up roads—these offer the supreme test of a pneumatic. Let us tell you how Gum-Dipping makes possible a bus and truck cord tire that meets every demand of load and road.

Pere Marquette bringing his message to the Indians of the Mississippi Valley, 1673

PERE MARQUETTE—gentle, fearless, self-sacrificing—zest of the explorer always overshadowed by zeal of the missionary—he was one of the few trail-blazers of history who was not governed by any thought of financial gain or glory.

People of the Mississippi Valley will always cherish the memory of "le bon Pere" and his companion, Louis Joliet, for they were the first Frenchmen to explore the Great River (1673) and the first to visit the spot where Chicago now stands.

It is not without a feeling of pride that we record the achievements of our illustrious namesake. With such traditions to inspire us, we would be unworthy of his name if we did not serve always to the limit of our ability.

Stewart-Warner again made a new low for the year yesterday in connection with the assumption that the dividend rate will be cut next Monday. After a turnover of about 13,775 shares, the stock closed at 53½, a net loss of 1½% for the day. Reports yesterday had it that earnings of the company for the second quarter of 1934 were little more than $1 a share and that the first annual dividend rate would be reduced to $4 a year. Boone Woolen Mills declined 1½, while Montgomery Ward was off on no realising ground. The market was generally quiet today, but there was a slight upward reaction after the time of 1923, which is about on a par with last month's standing. Sears-Roback sales are said to be about even with a year ago. Yellow Man

FRANCE TO GIVE CONDITIONS FOR
QUITTING RUHRAwaits German O.K. of Dawes Plan.

BY HENRY WALES.

(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.)
(Copyright, 1924, by The Chicago Tribune.)
LONDON, July 17.—France will make a declaration concerning the military and economic evacuation of the Ruhr tomorrow when its expert, M. Seydoux, who has been connected with the reparations commission since its inception, will submit a lengthy report to the second committee, dealing with the plan for restoring the fiscal and economic unity of Germany.

The Tribune is authoritatively informed tonight that the Seydoux memorandum, which has been approved by Premier Herriot, pledges complete and absolute withdrawal from the Ruhr as soon as Germany begins the execution of the Dawes plan. The French and Belgian armies of occupation will release all control over the industrial and financial operations in the Ruhr as soon as the reparations commission officially accepts Germany's adherence to the experts' plan, which will follow the passage of the necessary legal measures by the German reichstag.

Then within a reasonably short time after Germany makes the initial payments which the Dawes plan provides, and avows its sincerity, the occupying forces will be progressively withdrawn from the occupied territory, the contingent remaining in Essen. By that important munitions center will be evacuated within a short time if Berlin government continues to carry out its undertakings.

Will Keep Rail Control.
The Seydoux report provides that allies maintain a certain control of three railway lines in the Rhineland and Ruhr, which are classed as military strategic lines on the ground that the German railway men went on strike they would interfere with the service of supplies for the occupying armies. The maintenance of 2,000 French and Belgian railway men along these lines would be sufficient to maintain the operation of enough trains to satisfy the army needs, the French believe.

Although this is a minor point, it is expected to arouse opposition from the British, who insist on the integral application of the experts' plan. The Dawes committee stressed the point that its report must not be altered, revised, and one of the stipulations was that the French and Belgian troops hand over all railways in the occupied regions to Germany as a basis for a foreign loan.

Hold Committee Meetings.
The conference resolved itself into an affair of committees today and a general meeting was held. In the committees real struggles are being fought out between the French view, which consists of absolute security and the Anglo-American view, who would trust Germany to carry out the Dawes plan in her own interest and that of Europe.

During the morning Prime Minister MacDonald had private conference with Premier Herriot and Ambassador Frank Kellogg, who is representing the United States, and later he entertained lunch. M. Herriot, Premier of Belgium, Mr. Kellogg, and the staff of Italy. Tonight all the states were entertained at dinner at the government at Lancaster house. It is learned that the American delegates played a prominent part in yesterday's meeting. The first committee considering measures should be taken in case of default. Philip Snowden, leader of the Radicals, presides over the committee and he has been almost opposed to the French plan. Mr. MacDonald, another prominent member is Otto Niemeyer of the British treasury, who is also suspicious of the French, and the situation became strained.

Americans Ease Tension.
The French insisted on their right to take separate action in the event of a default. Mr. Snowden took the position that the Franco-British agreement of July 9 was not binding on the basis of discussion and was based on page 4, column
